Recycling and Carriage of Waste Tyres

End-of-life tyres are collected from the customer or service partner's location using our logistics partner DX Network Services Ltd (Waste Carriers Licence included).

They are transported to our retreading facility in Lincolnshire which is covered by Waste Management Licence EML: L172 /EPR 70948.

Tyres are inspected on arrival for retreading suitability and tyres that are fit for retreading are processed in line with our ISO 9001 Quality Management System.

Tyres that are unfit for retreading and any rubber waste that is generated by the retreading process are both collected from us by Murfitts Industries for granulating (Waste Carriers Licence attached). The granulation process reclaims all of the steel from the worn casing and the granulated rubber is formed into crumb.

In 2023, Vaculug recycled 5,155 tonnes of tyres and produced 4,227 tonnes of rubber crumb to be used in sports' surfaces and children's playgrounds, as well as 928 tonnes of recycled steel.

A copy of our 2023 Environmental Statement from Murfitts is attached.

Service Partners

Vaculug remains the largest independent manufacturer of retread tyres in Europe and has a major partnerships with Pirelli (Prometeon), Hankook and GiTi. Vaculug is also the UK agent for Yokohama and Westlake. To complement this, Vaculug has the ability to select a service partner that is best suited for the operation and location in question.

We utilise much of the network on a national basis and have our own selected service providers made up from the larger of the UK's Independent Tyre Distributors (Vaculug Independent Partners).

Whichever network we use our joint overall objective is to provide service levels which exceed our customers' expectations.

When working with a service partner on a particular agreement, we evaluate them on many levels and, over the years, have worked with many of the national organisations and regional independents. We constantly monitor and review our partners, specifically their compliance and abilities in the following areas:

- Their ability to provide a high standard and maintain continuity of service.
- Their area of coverage, national or regional.
- Their reputation and customer acceptance.
- Their willingness to stock policy tyres.
- Their emergency breakdown response times.
- Agreement with, and signing of, the Vaculug Service Policy Document.
- The provision of properly fitted out service vehicles.
- The provision of training for fitters.
- The level of compliance with Health and Safety, Insurance, Environmental Policies, Equipment inspections and BSI standards.
